How are customers notified?

H2GO works hard and diligently to ensure our customers receive important information on outages, boil advisories, and other important news in a timely fashion.

It is our goal to provide our customers with timely information during emergencies and we work to find ways that benefit everyone.

- All-Call Phone System

This messaging system is typically used for planned outages. If you change phone numbers, please fill out an information update form.

- Contact with Local Media

WWAY and WECT typically have notices posted within minutes of being notified.

- NextDoor

- Mail Chimp Email Service

You can visit our website to signup, signup on our Facebook page, and there is a link on our residential application form when you sign up for service.

- Facebook

- Pushed

This allows us to send push notifications directly to your phone. You can visit our website to signup and there is a link on our residential application form when you sign up for service.

- Website

We have a notification bar that appears at the top of our website for every page you visit that alerts of boil advisories.
